

Calla Lily

"It's hard to tell puns to a kleptomaniac – they always take things literally!"

You just love a good joke. Or an average joke. Or an utterly terrible joke. Any kind of joke, really, even – and perhaps especially – if it attracts more groans than laughter. Your friends claim that hanging around with humans so much has warped your mind, but they just don't understand the art of the pun. Sometimes you do chores and odd jobs for Big Folks in exchange for room and board; your friends think it's because you're a traditionalist, but really it's because hanging out with humans gives you plenty of opportunities to gather new material!

Quirks

A Comedian At Heart

You may prefer puns to pranks, but that doesn't mean you're above engaging in a little physical comedy. This Quirk helps whenever you do something specifically because it would be funny.

Your Own Little World

It's not that you're oblivious. You just have a very particular set of priorities. This Quirk helps you avoid any sort of hazard or threat to your person as long as you steadfastly refuse to acknowledge its existence.

Powers

Flight

You can fly with reasonable grace.

Instant Wardrobe

You have an easier time with Costume magic than most fae. Where others need a full change of clothes to take on a new role, you can just quickly swap out a few accessories. You do not need a Break to change Costumes, and can do so any time you're not actively rolling for a test or contest. You can still use the regular Quick Change rules – paying the usual 1 🌀 cost - if you need to change Costumes mid-roll.
