

Pooka Lavender

"Oh, don't mind me."

Behind your gentle expression of wide-eyed innocence lies a mind on a mission, and that mission is mischief. You tend to be a follower rather than a leader, but you have the attention span to see things through no matter how many shiny distractions get in your way. Though you don't speak up much, your friends have learned to brace themselves when you do – it usually means that something is about to explode. Beware the quiet ones, indeed.

Vital Statistics

Fastest Reaction Time: 0.04 seconds

Preferred Avenue of Retreat: Straight up

Best Time To Prank You: Never

Quirks

Disarming

You're not exactly sneaky. You're just... naturally inconspicuous. Thanks to your gentle demeanour, you don't register as out of place – until it's too late, anyway. This Quirk helps when you need to get up to mischief right under someone's nose.

The Better Part of Valour

You have a finely honed sense for when things are about to go South. When folks finally realise what you're up to, you're gone before they have a chance to react. This Quirk helps when you need to beat a tactical retreat.

Powers

Agility

You can't fly, but you can scuttle up walls and even across ceilings like a spider, squeeze through tiny gaps, and leap great distances.

Keen Senses

All of your senses are just as acute and discerning as your eyesight. You can navigate a dark room by touch, sense a human's mood by scent, or even read a book by taste (but don't, because it's gross). You may count this Power as a bonus Quirk that stacks with your Personal Quirks on any roll. In addition, Surprise Attacks don't count as Surprise Attacks against you.
